St. Stephens Lutheran Church, on Rt. 59 just south of Antioch, is nearing completion. The building will probably be ready for occupancy in October, says Pastor Wilton Anderson.

Church Building Near Completion

But Sewer, Water Lines Hang Fire

The new home of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, located atop a hill overlooking Antioch, will probably be completed in October. But a legal delay involving the possible installation of sewer and water lines may hold up dedication and use of the new building.

Whether or not sewer and water lines will be installed by the village depends on the outcome of a court hearing on a special assessment on property owners who would be serviced by the lines.

One property owner objected to the assessment, and the court granted a thirty-day extension before rendering its final verdict. So the village board, and the church, must wait for the court's verdict before taking any action.

This leaves St. Stephen's Church in the position of not knowing whether they will, finally, be serviced by sewer and water lines from the village, or will have to install their own well and septic tank system. Should the special assessment be turned down by the court, installation of sewer and water lines would be too costly for the village and church to undertake.

The new church building is a semi-contemporary design. The interior is of wood and brick. It includes the nave of the church, which will seat about 160 persons; three classrooms, including one large one which can be broken up into smaller units with the use of temporary dividers; an administrative office with a nursery.

The congregation was organized in Antioch in May of 1965, and has held services at Antioch High School. The congregation now numbers about 150 adults and 100 children, according to Pastor Wilton Anderson.

Architects of the new church building are Boness & Maass of Bensenville.

Wounded Vets Enjoy Outing

Forty-two wounded veterans, representing the Marines, Army and Navy, enjoyed a day of boating, eating, fishing, horseshoes, or just sitting around in the sun last Wednesday, thanks to the Antioch Township Republican Club.

The outing was held at Carroll's Resort on Bluff Lake. A bus brought the veterans, young men wounded in Viet Nam, to the resort at 11 a.m.

Lunch was the first order of business, a picnic style lunch provided by the Republican Women. During the afternoon, the veterans could take advantage of any of the activities provided for them.

Power boat owners took them on rides through the Chain O Lakes. Fishing was readily available.

A chicken barbecue, cooked on outdoor grills, with roasted corn, provided the main items on the dinner menu. A group of girl entertainers, under the direction of Mrs. Burns of Antioch, sang and danced for the veterans.

The group includes Chris Schoen of Spring Grove, a singer; Kathy Murphy, also of Spring Grove, a folk singer; Melanee Pedersen, McHenry, a dancer; Lori Burns, 8 years old, of Fox Lake, does a delightful hula, and Suzi Burns of Fox Lake, a dancer.

A five-piece combo donated their services to round out the evening for the veterans. The Children of Time, the combo, comprises Joe Putterlip and Roland Dreyer of Wauconda, and George Reinhecke, Wayne Sobczak and Scott Lucas of Antioch.

ACHS Staff Lacks Electronics Teacher

Antioch Community High School has not been able to find a teacher to replace Norman Craig in teaching of electricity and electronics, and at present has no prospects in view, says Superintendent Albert Dittman.

"It is the first time I've been unable to fill a position," Dittman said, "and I'm very much concerned. We have developed a fine course and have fine equipment. It will be too bad if we are unable to keep it going."

For the present, Dittman said, if no instructor for the course is found before school starts, other teachers in the Industrial Arts Department will cooperate in a course of exploratory electricity for freshmen. Then the full course for all grades will be re-instituted when and if a replacement is found. In the meantime, students who have signed up for the course will have to be re-scheduled.

At last Wednesday night's meeting of the Board of Education of the high school, the board approved participation in the Waukegan Area Vocational Training program.

Antioch High participated in this program for the first time last year, sending three Antioch students to Waukegan High for vocational training. Fourteen students were approved for the courses this year. Eleven of the students will be in Auto Shop and three in the Building Trades course.

The cost per student is estimated at $125 per hour per year. The two-hour daily Auto Body course cost about $250 per student. An expense of about $3,900 is involved.

The students provide their own transportation, and also pursue their regular courses at the high school.

The Board accepted the resignation of Ellen Stoeffel, who has been employed at the school for eight years.

Robert Rinkus was employed to teach Bookkeeping and Business Mathematics. Mr. Rinkus graduated last year from Northern Illinois University. He has no previous teaching experience. He replaces William Neuman.

The board set Wednesday, April 24, 1968, as the date for the annual dinner meeting with school boards and administrators of underlying schools. The high school has hosted this group for several years, as an aid to coordinating grade school and high school education.

The board accepted the offer of Lyons-Ryan Ford for use of a one-half ton truck in the driver training course. This is the first opportunity students have had to gain experience in driving a truck.

The truck is under the usual agreement with dealers—the dealer supplies the car and the school pays for license, insurance and maintenance.

The board inspected the building. Painting, renovation and repair has gone on during the summer vacation, and the school is almost ready for the fall term.

Payment of $305 in annual dues to the Illinois Association of School Boards was approved by the board. The firm of Rose & Christensen, Waukegan CPA's, was employed to audit the 1966-67 accounts.

A public hearing on the 1967-68 budget was held. Total expenditures in the budget equal $1,204,300, a 5.4 per cent increase over last year. Last year's budget totaled $1,142,349, an increase of about $62,000. Reasons for the higher budget, Mr. Dittman explained, are the addition of 2½ teachers to the payroll and the ordinary salary increases.

Superintendent Dittman estimates the enrollment in the high school for this year at about 1,075. Last year's enrollment was 1,009.

GOP Women Plan Meeting On Regional Basis

The 115th Annual Republican Women's Conference will be held on a regional basis for the first time this year in four cities, Chicago, Boston, Little Rock and Denver, to permit more women to attend. All interested women are invited to participate in the Chicago conference to be held at the Pick-Congress Hotel September 21 through 23.

Senator Thruston Morton, Republican of Kentucky, will be the featured speaker at a banquet honoring women in government Friday evening, September 22. Senator Morton is chairman of the GOP National Senatorial Committee and former chairman of the National Republican Committee. The banquet will follow a day of workshop meetings designed to supply information on successful methods used in political campaigns.

Appointments announced by Mrs. Ralph Peak, regional director of the conference and Illinois GOP National Committeewoman, includes Mrs. Maxine Polhill, Illinois chairman; Mrs. Lucinda Wanner, regional registrar; and Mrs. Virginia MacDonald, regional publicity director.

Mrs. Richard Reed, Lake County chairwoman has been appointed Lake County coordinator for this midwest session of the National Republican Women's Conference. Information and reservations may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Reed, 927 Holly Court, Deerfield, phone WI 5-2443. Mrs. J. Wawirka of Lake Zurich, 12th Congressional District Republican banquet chairman, and Mrs. Walter C. Hamann, Lake Forest, is submitting publicity in the 12th district.

Reckers To Attend Ill. Bankers School

Preston J. Reckers, Jr., Assistant Vice-President, State Bank of Antioch, will leave Sunday for two weeks of study at the Illinois Bankers School at Southern University, Carbondale, Illinois.

The School, sponsored by the Illinois Bankers Association, requires attendance at two summer sessions of two weeks each. Extension work involving problems in all phases of banking must also be completed by the students to earn their certificates of graduation.

Mr. Reckers, along with 75 other Illinois bankers, will be attending his second session August 28 through September 9.

Work on the new addition to Emmons School goes forward, but will not be completed for the opening of school.

Can't Complete Emmons For School Opening

Emmons School will open on Sept. 5, with work still going forward on the new addition to the building.

The contractor, said board member Richard Major, had promised that two classrooms would be ready for occupancy when school opened. However, at this time, it does not appear that this will be possible.

Major said work on the addition had gone forward at a good pace but that start of the construction had been delayed.

Emmons has a full staff of teachers, one to each of the eight grades. A teacher for first grade was employed last week.

The new addition includes five classrooms; a new office, washrooms, a teacher's lounge and the new gym, complete with a stage. The classrooms will be completed first, Major said, probably about the middle of October. The gym, he said, should be ready by Jan. 1.

Schad & West are architects for the Emmons School addition, and Pickus Bros. Construction are the General Contractors.

The school expects to have an enrollment of 149 pupils this year.

New Food Store On Antioch Scene

The store on Lake St. formerly occupied by the A & P has been rented, and will be open for business as a Certified Food Store, probably within the next two months.

The store will be operated by Don Bush of Trevor and Adam Adams, who are 12-1. Mr. Bush is a member of the family who formerly operated Bush's Certified Foods in Trevor.

Students to Register

Registration for all students at Grass Lake School will be Friday, Sept. 1, from 8:15 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. in the school gym.

The registration fee is $11 per student, except for families having four or more children in school, who will pay $8 per child.

School supplies will be available for purchase in the school store, and parents will have an opportunity to join the P.T.A. at the membership table.

The school buses will make their regular runs beginning at 8 a.m. The children will be returned home by bus at 9:30 a.m. Parents may also bring their children, register them, and take them home, if they prefer.

The kindergarten class will be conducted in the morning this year from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Superintendent John Schockmel urges any parent who has not pre-registered their kindergarten children or any new student in the district to do so any weekday from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the school office.

Supt. Schockmel also reminds all parents that all kindergarten or new first grad-

Danger At Home

Do you feel safe at home?

You're not, reminds the Lake County Safety Commission. There were 29,500 deaths in the nation last year due to home accidents.

The truly sad thing about these statistics is that most of these deaths could have been averted, with a little care.

How many times have you stumbled over a loose board, groped stumbling down a poorly lit, cluttered stairway, and said, "I've got to do something about that." — and then forgotten it?

There are dozens of potential killers in your home, if you're just a little bit careless. The Safety Commission suggests checking the following: Stairs—make sure they're well-lit and have hand rails.

Fires—make a regular check for fire hazards, and check you're heating equipment.

Guns—keep them unloaded and out of the reach of children.

Smothering—keep plastic materials out of the reach of children, especially in bed.

Poisoning—all poisons, including drugs and cleaning products, should be out of the reach of children.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure". Train yourself to be safety-minded. It's a good habit.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

The suggestion by Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley at the State Fair last week that Gov. Otto Kerner would again head the Democratic ticket has provided the political pundits a welcome opportunity to write interpretive pieces on what the Democratic chieftain really said and really meant.

Did Daley mean Kerner would buck the third term tradition and lead the ticket as incumbent Governor trying for an unprecedented third term?

Or did Mr. Big of the Democratic organization mean that the Governor would move up in class to take on U. S. Senator Everett M. Dirksen in the main event?

The appointment of the Illinois Governor to head the presidential commission on big city riots would tend to lend credence to the theory that Gov. Kerner is being prepped for a move onto the national scene.

Prior to the recently adjourned session of the Illinois General Assembly, Gov. Kerner was highly regarded as a sure loser if he tried for a third term, but his display of leadership and political footwork earned him plaudits from many sources which had regarded him as a weak governor and a Daley puppet.

Certainly his stature as Governor is greater today than it has been at any time in his six years in office. One thing is certain: no matter which post Kerner seeks, he can be almost certain of entering the primary without opposition since his decision, if not dictated by Daley, would certainly carry his blessing which would be enough to keep all but the most foolhardy on the sidelines.

Republican Party bigwigs would give a truckload of Alf Landon buttons to correctly predict Kerner's decision because it could make a big difference in their choice of a gubernatorial candidate, but there is little likelihood Daley or Kerner will give this type of aid and comfort to the enemy.

It is beginning to appear as though the Lake County Board of Supervisors is going to burden the taxpayers with another major savings by expanding the use of data processing into all accounting activities of the county.

One test of the feasibility of adding new equipment might be a computerized report from the equipment itself on just how much has been saved in time, payroll, and other costs since the first agreement with IBM was signed.

Reports that the State of Illinois is planning to purchase Gander Mountain as part of a Fox River-Chain O' Lakes recreation area development plan should be good news to those who have been concerned with the growing pollution on the river and in the Chain.

It is reasonable to suppose that heavy state investments in recreation land in the area would be followed by heavy investments in anti-pollution measures and supporting expenditures.

All right. So the development of Chain O' Lakes State Park didn't spark any great activity on the part of the state. There's always a next time.

Now that a direct access to the Illinois Beach State Park on Lake Michigan has been established on Wadsworth Road east of Sheridan Rd. (Rte. 42) shouldn't the Illinois Toll Road Commission give serious consideration to creating an exit and entrance to the toll road at Wadsworth Rd.?

Visitors to the park from the Chicago area use the toll road as far as Grand Ave., but from then on they are at the mercy of infrequent signs pointing the way to the park.

A direct route would be a service to those residents of the state who want to visit the park and not make a barely scenic tour of Lake County.

There is an old saying that goes something like this, "Learn to control thyself before trying to control others." In the operation of an automobile, the first rule should be self-control. Driving while irritated, tired and after drinking has been the cause of many traffic accidents. Self-control comes before car control.

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

It required an Act of Congress to settle the recent railroad strike of six non-operating railroad shop unions. This action came only after more than 100,000 railroad employees had walked off the job and the nation faced a virtually complete tie-up of the economy. The latest congressional action followed earlier steps which had averted the crippling strike since May 7, 1966.

While the railroad labor dispute appears to have been allayed for at least another year, there is no assurance that some other disastrous labor strike or lockout may not disrupt the economy and throw the nation into a new crisis.

The principal issue involved in the recent congressional action was that of compulsory arbitration. Indeed, the special measure enacted by the Congress requires that if management and labor do not reach a voluntary agreement by October 16, 1967, the parties must accept the determination made by the arbitration board.

While this one-shot settlement of a single nationwide labor dispute includes the objectionable feature of compulsory arbitration, one may ask what is the long-range solution to all strikes and threats of strikes which affect the entire national economy and public welfare.

Recently, Samuel I. Rosenman, former New York Supreme Court Justice and one-time adviser to Presidents Truman and Kennedy, proposed the establishment of labor courts. Under Judge Rosenman's proposal, a federal court system, including a Federal Labor Court of Appeals, would be set up where labor disputes affecting interstate commerce or threatening the national health or safety, as well as essential municipal services, might be litigated. In other words, labor disputes of this character would be handled in a manner similar to that of individual or corporate disputes which can be resolved only by means of a court proceeding.

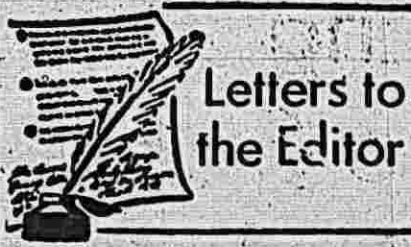

Labor courts would (1) enable the settlement of jurisdictional disputes in which management and the public are invariably the innocent third party victims; (2) enable individuals and groups with grievances to have a judicial determination of their rights; and (3) resolve serious questions of labor contracts as well as the renewing or reopening of labor contract negotiations where the parties are unable to reach voluntary agreements—and where the broad national interest is involved.

Some representatives of labor and management may complain that such a system would involve compulsion. However, it is well to recall that all constitutional rights are subject to limitations when these rights affect third parties. In such instances, courts are invariably called upon to help resolve the constitutional questions.

It would appear to be thoroughly consistent with our system that a party, including a labor union which feels aggrieved, may present the cause to a duly established tribunal—as in the case of other individual or group claims. In such a tribunal (labor court) the evidence on both sides could be presented and the dispute determined by judicial decision. The role of a Labor Court of Appeals would enable either side to have a review of the decision so that the lower court order might be affirmed, modified, or reversed.

It is expected that such labor courts would be served by judges specially trained and qualified to handle problems involving management and labor in the same way as the Tax Court and the Court of Patent Appeals are served by specialists in their respective disciplines.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LYNCH MOB OF ANTIOCH

We feel very sorry for those of you who saw fit to become so excited as to cloud your good judgment and fair thinking, to believe without asking us, all that was told to you, by someone that used his own personal quarrel to incite you people against something of which we had no desire or intention of doing.

We would no more use our funds to improve anyone else's property than any of you would do. We do not OWN the lake property in question and therefore pay no taxes on same. We have NEVER made use of this easement in the 15 years we have owned the property we now live on, nor do we intend to.

As your concern was so great that WE do not let outsiders come to YOUR lake, why it is you find no fault in letting the rental areas open to anyone that wants to launch a boat? If there are too many boats on YOUR lake, shouldn't you have solved your problem that is already in existence, or is there some reason you hesitate? ? ?

We must clear up the boat rental space we had available some time ago. If anyone saw the sign at the entrance to our driveway, they may recall this to be a BOY SCOUT activity, where the fee taken for the rental space was donated to the BOY SCOUTS, also that our barn was a drop-off for the BOY SCOUT paper drive (some of you might recall that also). When we were told by the Zoning Board that we could not do this, we immediately stopped the space rental. I'm sure others have been in error at one time or other.

Most of you know us through working together in community activities such as Scouting, Church organizations, and School functions, where the group strives to benefit the residents or Town in some various ways. Why then, would we wish to do something that would be harmful to those around us? Those who saw fit to incite you people with a false, made up story, and using their own MALICE against us, did so in very bad taste.

What a shame you showed us so little courtesy as to judge without first knowing the full extent of the situation. We pity anyone being on trial here and you people being the jury, you would have the victim guilty BEFORE you heard the evidence.

We hope you can live with your conscience through the aftermath of this distorted situation. The shock to us will take time to overcome, no wonder there is such great turmoil in our country.

The Vietnam war drags on and on. More of our boys are being killed and wounded. More planes and other equipment are being lost daily.

What steps are being taken by the administration to win this war decisively and bring our boys home victorious? This is what the President who, when he took his oath of office, swore to defend the U. S. He is "building bridges to the East." Over these bridges he recommends we increase our trade with the enemy. These friendly gestures are supposed to show our friendly attitude and thus persuade the Communists to be equally friendly and peaceful.

What are the results? More arms and ammunition supplied by Russia to the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong. These are the same arms which are used against our soldiers. Now the latest scheme to be considered is to build a fortified line of concrete and barbed wire entirely across Vietnam, mop up the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese south of the fortification then gradually withdraw. Remember the Maginot Line!

North Vietnam will be as strong as it is now if not stronger. After our withdrawal what then? Is the President telling us we have sacrificed our boys for nothing? Is he telling us that we must not expect victory in Vietnam?

It is time, in fact past time, to ask: When are we going to win in Vietnam and why not?

Ken Finds Out Why Bachelors Marry

THE PERILS OF A BACHELOR

For more than 20 yrs. I had someone on my back all the time. . . . Parents, teachers, 6'6" platoon sgt. weighing 250 lbs. or someone else. At last when Uncle Sam fired me I was free. I could go out in the world all by myself and become a free wheeling bachelor. Ha ha, what a surprise.

Did you ever have to travel 2000 miles, and split the driving with yourself? Army chow was bad but better than none at all. I ruined 3 steaks before I found the instruction manual said broil not boil. It took me a week to learn how to make instant coffee. I thought anyone could make soup. Also if you make bacon and eggs for breakfast if you don't make the bacon first the eggs get glapped up all over the frying pan. I throw breakfast dishes in the sink in the morning and head for school. A most amazing thing happens. When I get home the dishes are still in the sink. I've got an alarm clock that sounds like an air raid siren. I get a case of nerves for the rest of the day. Since I can't afford to send my laundry out, I do my own. Did you ever see what happens if you put 2 pr. black pants, 1 blue shirt, one red shirt and a green throw rug in a washing machine and add bleach? Don't try it.

With all my problems I have learned one thing. Now I know why kids get married at 16.

Beware of your elders. They're not always as dumb as they pretend to be.

Attendance At Fair Hits All-Time High

The 47th Kenosha County Fair ended August 13 with a record-breaking total attendance of 44,100, largest in the fair's history. The number attending was over 4,000 higher than the previous all-time high.

Dark-haired, brown eyed Mary Lindl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lindl, Kenosha, received the glittering crown that symbolizes her selection as queen of the fair. Sandra Andresen, the Kenosha County 1966 Fair Queen, was named first-runner-up at the State Fair.

A 910-lb. Grand Champion Angus steer, shown by Janice Nilsen of the Paris Happy Workers 4-H Club, was purchased by Cunningham Cartage, Inc., of Antioch for a total of $464.10, or 51c a pound. Twin Lakes State Bank paid 39c a pound, a total of $357.63, for the Reserve Champion steer shown by Jeff Gahart of the Paris Happy Workers 4-H club.

The champion market lamb was purchased by the Milwaukee Stockyards for 44½¢ a pound from Gary Hartnell, Salem Pioneers 4-H. Gary's champion pen of lambs went to Casey's Locker, Union Grove, for 35c a pound.

Joe & Helen's Little Acres at Loon Lake received the award, it was announced by Dr. John J. Ring, Acting Director of the Health Dept. The awards are given in recognition of outstanding programs of food service sanitation and their purpose is to aid in informing the public of the cooperative effort being put forth by the food service industry, and the Health Dept. in protecting public health.

The awards are being presented at a luncheon at 1 p.m. today (Thursday) at Louie's in Waukegan.

Other winners of the awards were McDonald's Drive-In, Deerfield; Kitchens of Sara Lee, employees' cafeteria, Deerfield; Twin Orchard Country Club, Lake Zurich; Penny's Snack Shop, Highland Park; Schmeltzer's Drive-In, Round Lake; Eddie Zalad's, Zion; The Lantern, Lake Forest; Waukegan Township High School, West Campus; and Poppe's Alpine House, Lake Zurich.

Girls Visit England to Complete Studies

A group of Lake County students from Carmel High School for Girls traveled to England this past summer to complete their studies of English Drama and History at Nottingham University in England.

Two of the touring students are from the Antioch area—Julie Zannini and Sue Sedivec. The girls are expected home Wednesday, after we go to press. Mrs. Eugene Zannini, Julie's mother, said she has had almost daily letters from her telling of the many places of interest they have visited. The girls were scheduled to take side trips to Paris and Germany.

In addition to the two Antioch girls, the group from Carmel included Maryanne Armata, Maureen Casey, Deborah Dishinger, Elizabeth Donnellan, Kathleen Enquist, Joanne Ferguson, Michele Gardner, Mary Kay Kennedy and Susan O'Brien.

Sr. Nancy McCarthy, an instructor at Carmel, traveled with the girls as a counselor. The program was organized by the Foreign Language League, the world's largest international school system. Directing the campus is the Rev. James O'Brien, S. J., chairman of the English Department at Xavier High School, Concord, Mass. The Associate Director is Laurence Hill, Supt. of Schools in the Campbell District, San Jose, Calif.

Graduation exercises were held at the University, attended by the Lord Mayor of Nottingham and the Lady Mayoress, dignitaries of the City and University, plus members of the Foreign Language League.

While at Nottingham University, the students spent two and one-half weeks studying and touring Nottingham and surrounding areas—York, Coventry, Warwick, Lincoln, Stratford and Cambridge. Three to four hours each day were given to intensive classroom work which included lectures on English drama by Elliott Norton, drama critic of the Boston Record American; lectures in British History, by Dr. Carlton Jackson of Western Kentucky University; Miss Susan Ellis, instructor in the British School system, and Miss Jean Roebuck, graduate student of the University of London.

The students attended an average of two plays a week in Nottingham and surrounding areas, seeing such plays as Coriolanus, The Cherry Orchard and One in the Eye.

Religion presented in old fashioned camp meeting style will be featured during the Labor Day weekend at the Salvation Army's Camp Wonderland, six miles northwest of Antioch.

Inspirational meetings combined with outdoor recreation are planned for the 18th annual pilgrimage beginning Friday, Sept. 1, and continuing through noon on Monday, Sept. 4.

"Everyone is welcome to attend the pilgrimage and enjoy a weekend of Christian fellowship, stimulating discussion and recreation," explained Lt. Col. Gordon A. Foubister, commander of the Northern Illinois Division, which sponsors the event. "If you can't attend the entire session, come for a day or a single meeting."

Music for the pilgrimage meetings will be furnished by the Rockford Temple Band and the Pilgrimage String Band, and some vocal soloists including Lennart Sandbergh, Rockford gospel singer. On Sunday, Sept. 3, at 3 p.m., a special music festival program will be presented.

Programs and activities are planned for children up to 13 years of age. Recreation will include swimming and boating on Center Lake, organized playground activities, tennis, baseball, horse-shoe pitching and shuffleboard.

Study classes and special lectures will be given by Col. Albert G. Pepper (retired), of St. Petersburg, Fla., Commissioner of The Salvation Army "War-Cry," 856 N. Dearborn st., Lt. Col. Edward Nelson, 4627 N. Drake; Brigadier Edward Deratany, 5023 W. Potomac ave., and Capt. Paul Fleeman, 2900 Wilson ave. Capt. Fleeman will be in charge of all youth sessions.

Meals and lodgings for the entire family are available.

Train Young Men For Division of Highways

One hundred forty-three young men from 107 Illinois communities are completing an intensive 11-week course for highway engineering technicians at the University of Illinois.

One of the trainees is Frank Roblin, 913 David St., Antioch. The young men will complete the training program Aug. 25, and will go directly into jobs with the Illinois Division of Highways.

Purpose of the program, which pays qualified young men while they are learning, is to provide trained technicians to free graduate highway engineers in Illinois for more specialized professional responsibilities.

The men chosen are high school graduates with completed courses in algebra and plane geometry; aged 17-25 and in normal good health; without plans to enter college before Sept. 1968; and with interest and aptitude for engineering work.

They are picked, also, on the basis of scholastic record, aptitude examination and personal interview. Each man selected must agree to work at least one year for the Division of Highways after completion of his training.

Trainees are paid $350 a month, while on campus. After the course is completed, they begin actual work at salaries of $400 a month.

About 10% of the men who have completed the program and their obligation to the Division of Highways have returned to the classroom to work for U. of I. engineering degrees.

Show History Of Fashions At Fair

Thousands had a chance to view Phyllis McMillen's "History of Fashions" at the Illinois State Fair this past weekend. The dramatic pageant was presented five times in the Exposition building at the Fair. Plans had been made for four shows, but the response of the audience lead Jo Mack, Superintendent of Special Activities, to request an additional show.

Most people around Antioch are somewhat familiar with Mrs. McMillen's History of Fashion shows. She had done painstaking research so that she can reproduce fashions of various eras authentically. Live models display the costumes, and she also has a display of dolls dressed in styles of earlier days.

A group of models from Antioch traveled to Springfield with Mrs. McMillen to display the styles. Ann Kakacek portrayed the Greek Queen and Josephine, the French Empress. Holly Lang, a newcomer to the show, barefoot and with blonde hair flowing to her waist, was a cavewoman. Diana McMillen was stunning as Carlotta, Empress of Mexico. She did a clever skit with Scott Maras, a Prince for this day.

Laura Lang, as Marie Antoinette, was adorned with a white wig with a rhinestone-studded sailing vessel on top.

Angela Maras, queenly as Catherine the Great, suddenly changed character in a comedy skit, Ann of Cleves. Kitten Kakacek, in an old-fashioned bathing suit, was a contrast to Holly Lang in a bikini.

Newest addition to the show is Holly Steichmann, a Chinese Empress in the Fair appearance. She also portrayed Mary Lincoln in her second inaugural ball gown. Highlights of the show were John Kakacek and Scott Maras as Beau Brummel and Beau Nash. The show ended with modern dress. Angela Maras modeled her winning wool ensemble and her 1967 cotton winner. Formal dresses completed the show.

Suggests Change In Teacher Education

The teacher shortage gap might be closed by requiring two years of general education before entering professional courses, according to a Northern Illinois University professor.

Dr. Russell S. Ende says that a pre-educator requirement, similar to pre-law and pre-medicine programs, would greatly reduce the attrition rate of teacher candidates in the professional schools.

The NIU associate professor of education says there are indications that at one school about one-third of the sophomores entering the first phase of professional teacher preparation are lost before they enter the third phase as seniors.

Ende called this loss a "waste of public funds, university space, and professional efforts" and said the space occupied by lost students could be better used by "proven scholars who have successfully passed through the mill of general education and are known to have a reasonable indication of academic success."

His article in the latest issue of Illinois Elementary Principal magazine may draw mixed reaction from professional educators. Some believe general education courses should be mixed with professional classes throughout the four years of undergraduate study. In most good colleges preparing teachers, this mixture of general education courses through the entire program would total approximately two years of work.

Ende believes that his proposal will not only cut the attrition rate, but also produce a more highly qualified graduate. "The students will be more mature and have a superior pre-professional background for understanding the professional concepts, especially through better thinking and communication abilities."

Cartoon Carnival To Replace UNICEF

Members of the MYF at the Methodist Church discussed plans for fall activities at the meeting Aug. 22.

In place of the usual UNICEF drive, the MYF this year will sponsor a Cartoon Carnival on a Saturday morning for small children.

A film night will feature "The Restless Ones," with other youth groups invited to view the film. A letter was read from the Antioch MYF's "foster child," 14-year-old Lo Yuk Ming who lives in Hong Kong.

On Sept. 3, at the 11 a.m. service, the MYF will present a check for $50 to the Rev. Cobb. This represents the profits from the ice cream social sponsored by the MYF during the Diamond Jubilee. The group accepted an invitation to attend the first Teensview meeting at the United Protestant Church at Grayslake on Sept. 10. The topic will be "The Gospel According to Peanuts."

Rain, Cold Delay Championship Race

The 50-lap jinx struck again Saturday night as day-long rains and record cold forced postponement of the Summer Championship races at Waukegan Speedway for late models. This 50-lap affair has been re-scheduled for Saturday night, Aug. 26.

Double championship points will be awarded for all events Saturday as an outstanding field of late models will be entered. Hobby stocks will be entered. Hobby stock racing will also be billed for that night.

SUNDAY RACES

Whitney Harris and John Reimer left the fans breathless after a spectacular exhibition of skillful modified stock car driving Sunday night at the Waukegan Speedway. Harris won three events and set one new track record, while Reimer chalked up the fastest time of the season, won a heat and was a scant three feet behind at the feature checkered.

Only 50 championship points now separate point leader Bill Bohn and fourth place Reimer with Harris and Roger Von Otto sandwiched in-between as the hottest point battle ever is shaping up at the Waukegan oval.

Harris finally passed earlier pacesetter Jim Bozeman after nineteen laps and roared to his second consecutive feature-win at Waukegan. At the midway point, Bozeman, Harris, Fran Ansell, Otto, Reimer, Homer Ansell, Darv Nissen and Bohn were all racing extremely close together as one big slip and would have put any one of them in the lead.

Reimer streaked into second on the twenty-second lap and set out for Harris. The next lap, Reimer was officially clocked at :15.87 as he closed in on Harris. On the thirtieth and final lap, Reimer brought the crowd to their feet as he raced along side of Harris on the outside, but Harris was equal to the challenge and won in the closest feature finish of the entire year.

Harris dominated the races after setting third fast time in the trials. He shattered his old six lap record in the dash, was less than a second off his ten lap record and then just missed the 30 lap mark. Reimer, meanwhile, clocked the swiftest time trial of the year with a :16.11 lap and then set the all-time speed mark with the :15.87

Friday Night Majors To Re-Organize

The Friday night Major league at the Antioch Bowl will hold a meeting of the membership at 8 p.m. Friday night, Aug. 25.

The league will be re-organized this year to an 875-average scratch league. Heretofore, there has been no limit on team averages.

The Bi-State league will meet Thursday at 8 p.m.

The Nite Owl league will open the bowling season with their first session of bowling scheduled for Monday night, August 28.

Special Shoot For Founder's Day

Founder's Day will be marked by members of the McHenry Sportsmen's Club at a special shoot on Sunday, August 27th on the club grounds, starting at 11 a.m.

Started in 1926, the club was incorporated as a non-profit organization in January 1948. It has been a going concern since its inception, dealing in sportsman-ship, safe gun handling and marksmanship.

The current slate of officers includes Joseph Lally, McHenry, president; Arvid Hamrick, Woodstock, vice president; Harry Stern, Antioch, secretary; Adrian Armit, McHenry, treasurer; Wallace Manz, Fox Lake, trap chairman. Robert Heywood, Antioch, and James Janota, Fox Lake, are directors.

Featured on the day's program will be the Hi-Lo Shoot, designed for just average shooters, in which the high scoring gun and the lowest tallying shooter each wins a prize. Equally inviting to this group is the Hi-Lo-White Bird Shoot, and it too will be on the list, as will double, triple and quintuple white bird shoots. Straight high score contests will be on tap for the dead-eye nimrods, and practice shooting will be run off all day.

Tender, aged JoPat steaks and juicy young chickens will be on the prize list for the winning shooters.

Shells and refreshments will be available in the club house which is on the west side of Pistakee Bay. The Public is invited to attend this and all shoots at the McHenry Sportsmen's Club. (The only exception to this is the club's annual picnic, held for members and invited guests only.)

Rifles Demolish Redwings In Opener

The Lake Co. Rifles opened defense of their Central States football-league title by demolishing the Sheboygan Redwings 58-6 before a rainy weather crowd of 2,000 on Saturday, August 19, at Weiss Field, Waukegan. The Rifles' next game is a home tilt with the rugged Manitowoc Chiefs at 8 p.m. Saturday, August 26.

The Rifles dominated the game from the opening whistle, scoring seven touchdowns in the first half while holding Sheboygan scoreless. The first four times the Rifles had the ball, they scored.

By the half, the Rifles had a 45-0 lead and coach Chick Cichowski was substituting freely. The health lead enabled the Rifle mentor to experiment with new men in different positions and to play every man suited up for the game for extensive periods.

Quarterback Lew Flinn had an excellent night, completing nine passes in 15 attempts, four for touchdowns. Split end Angelo Dabiero was the target for two TD's, flanker Warren Nicholas and flanker Eddie Shullis scored the others. Dabiero also took a stint at quarterback and connected with Nicholas for another touchdown.

Lake County's defense scored a pair of touchdowns. Linebacker Tom Erickson scooped up a blocked punt and ran it in for a score and defensive end Will Slaughter recovered a Sheboygan fumble and took it in for a tally. Lake County's two ground TD's came on a 50 yard punt return by Dick Wolf and a one yard plunge by Maurice Guins. Wayne Miller made four conversions.

Lake County gained 431 yards in the game despite 130 yards in penalties. Passing accounted for 264 yards, rushing 162. Sheboygan gained 250 yards, 171 by passing, 79 by rushing. All of the Redwings' yardage was amassed by Gene Lefler, who was responsible for the visitors' lone TD, a 58-yard toss to end Emil Matis in the third quarter.

Flinn had 210 yards passing, Dabiero had 59 with three completions in five attempts, and Wolf completed one for three, losing five yards. Guins was Lake County's leading rusher with 64 yards in 16 carries. Mark Metcalf had 60 yards in 11 carries, Dabiero 22 yards in four and Wolf 11 yards in three tries.

In other CSFL action, Madison smashed Delavan 42-9, West Allis stamped Arlington 33-7 and Racine squeezed by Manitowoc 20-19.

Tickets to Rifles games are available at the State Bank of Antioch.

Harris on Win Streak At L. Geneva Track

Duane Harris continued his hot streak at Lake Geneva Thursday night by first setting fast time in qualifying and then coming all the way from the back to win the 30-lap modified feature race. His win streak started here last Saturday night when he won the 50 lap mid-season championship race. His qualifying time Thursday night was only one-tenth of a second off the track record.

Roger Otto won the six lap trophy dash and heat races were won by Denny McKay, Horch and Harris.

In the late model stock car racing, Bob Roper of Chicago once again beat the Wisconsin drivers after a close battle with Gary Drews and Gene Sisk.

Ron Cooper won the Spectator stock car race by getting the lead only on the very last lap over Harold Kautz of Genoa City.

TAKES SATURDAY NIGHT FEATURE

Denny McKay of Elgin wound up in front of a fast pack of modified stock cars at the Lake Geneva Speed Center in the 30-lap feature and after a wire to wire run in the lead, had won his first feature race victory.

The time trials and races were delayed an hour while the rain off the track. In spite of their efforts the track was still a challenge in the qualifying and the best run by Duane Harris was more than two seconds off the track record time. The net effect, though, was that cars earned feature race positions. Bergsma wound up winning the semi-feature. It marked the first time this year he has missed the feature race field.

The slick track gave Claude Potter of Genoa City the most problems in the feature, as he spun twice. He had been up to fifth spot before spinning out the first time. Later he spun out with Ken Monroe and this tangle brought out the red flag.

Modified stock car heats were won by Chuck Henna, Bergsma, Cedarburg and Otto.

Bruce Johnson of White-water won the 30 lap late model mid-season Championship race. He took the lead on the last lap from Peter Seitz who led most of the distance. The regular Speed Center competitors were able to finish ahead of most of the visiting drivers. Harv Dunbar, Leon Dunnivan, Gary Drews and Joe Trocowsy were all ahead of Mike Wolf who was making only his second appearance of the season in the late model stocks. The visitors did well in the heats, as Bob Anzinger and Gill Rein were the winners.

Ron Copper again won the spectator stock car event. Racing continues at the Speed Center this Thursday night, August 24, and the following week will mark the ladies Powder Puff races run to thrill and entertain the fans. Saturday night races will continue well into the month of September.

Heads Scout Committee

Eugene R. Parenti, 134 E. Grove, Mundelein, has accepted the chairmanship of the organization and extension committee for the Northwest District Boy Scouts. Parenti has been active in Scouting for several years, serving the past two years on the district health and safety committee.

According to Parenti, the job of the organization and extension committee is to organize additional Scouting units in the district and to extend the Scouting program to every boy between the ages of 8 to 18. His committee will give leadership to the 1967 Fall Roundup program which will begin Sept. 1 and end Dec. 31. Vincent P. Sparrow of Libertyville will spearhead this year's roundup which will be presented to all leaders at the district annual program kick-off meeting at the Mundelein High School on Aug. 23.

Parenti said, "92,000 organizations are now using Scouting as a character building and citizenship training program. Charters for more than 140,000 Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops, and Explorer posts are issued by the Boy Scouts of America to religious groups, schools and P.T.A.'s, service clubs and fraternal orders, veteran and governmental groups, business and industry, and other civic and community organizations."

Bill Ballard is a regular Saturday night competitor at the Waukegan Speedway.

Race Driver Adopts James Bond Number

Race fans . . . who drives a super-fast car with 007 on the sides and an antenna sprouting from the roof? If you said James Bond, you're wrong . . . at least at the Waukegan Speedway where Bill Ballard races every Saturday night.

Ballard, adopting the 007 number last season when the James Bond movies were at their height, looks even more like an Ian Fleming character this season. Crawling into his red, white and blue 1965 Chevelle stock car, Ballard straps on a Bell X-500 crash helmet which has a small radio receiver mounted next to his right ear.

The receiver is wired to an antenna on the roof-top of the car. Two walkie-talkie type transmitters are stationed around the track to send vital information to Ballard throughout the races. Ballard cannot reply through this one-way system.

Ballard said, "This system may be used as often as six times or more during a feature race, telling me about the front end, back end, tires, other cars, smoke and my position; but it is only for important news. Sometimes a whole feature goes by without a word spoken."

Waukegan Speedway is a quarter mile clay oval. Like most short clay tracks, the action is fast and furious and a word of caution or encouragement may be the difference between a win and a wrecked car.

Manning the walkie-talkie in the pits is Gordie Schmidt, Ballard's crew chief. Stationed in the stands, either Dick Fairchild, or Ballard's wife, Marilyn, operates the other unit. Fairchild, an avid race fan and owner of Fairchild TV in Elgin, developed the idea for the one-way radio communication last winter.

Ballard has four children ranging in age from 8 years to 4 months. Bill and his family reside in Elgin, but he is employed by Skip Hansen Chevrolet in Geneva. Fairchild TV and Skip Hansen Chevrolet sponsor Ballard's speed chariot.

Competing regularly at Waukegan this season, Ballard travels over 100 miles round trip to race every Saturday night. Still shutout from a feature win this season, Bill hoped to win the big 50 lap Championship race August 19 at the Speedway. In longer events of this nature, the radio should prove a valuable aid.

Tuberculosis, the supposedly "vanishing" disease that refuses to get lost, still attacks more than 50,000 Americans every year.

Castles in the air are nice until you step out the door.
